What is Journal?

OfficialMe uses a Journal feature to represent your media by date instead of the traditional profile timeline. Your profile Journal groups your posts by date for easy viewing and access. When you post media to your account, a folder with the current date is created and all the media that is posted on that date is added to that folder automatically. Each dated folder is considered an entry in your journal. Your journal is also searchable so you can go back to specific month and year without having to scroll.
